'It isn't easy to smuggle a rat into school.

The hardest animal to sneak into school is of course the blue whale.

Just too big and wet.'

Dustgirl

'Raj studied the small dusty girl.

"So forgive me, but what have you dressed as?"

"Dustgirl."

"Dustgirl?"

"Yes, Dustgirl. She is a superhero, you know."

"I have never heard of her."

"She is very popular."

"Dustgirl, eh? So what is her superpower?" enquired Raj, genuinely curious.

"She is very good at dusting," replied Zoe.'

Zoe/Dustgirl defeated the crimes of the gruesome villain Burt.

Draw your own superhero comic strip for the next adventures of 'Dustgirl'!

The Amazing Armitage

'...Zoe dreamed of travelling the world with a huge menagerie of animal stars. One day, she would train animals to do extraordinary feats that she believed would delight the world. She even made a list of what these madcap acts could be:

A frog who is a superstar DJ

A rapping terrapin

Two gerbils who ballroom dance together

An elephant who sings opera

A donkey who does magic tricks

A tap-dancing centipede

A boy band comprised entirely of guinea pigs

A street-dance group of tortoises

A cat who does impressions (of famous cartoon cats)

A ballet-dancing pig

A worm hypnotist

A high-wire acrobatics act with cows

An ant who does ventriloquism

A daredevil mole who does incredible stunts like being shot out of a cannon

A karate display with jellyfish

A bungee-jumping hippopotamus.'

Design a poster advertising Zoe's travelling animal show.

Can you add any other animal acts to her list?

The Pulverisation Machine

'Burt approached the machine.

The main part of the contraption was a massive metal funnel, with a long conveyor belt leading from underneath it. A huge wooden rolling pin hovered over the belt. Next, metal arms that could have been parts of old food mixers stood ready at the side. On the end of the arms were round metal tubes that looked like sawn-down sections of old piping, or perhaps even parts of a lorry exhaust pipe.

...As soon as Burt walked over and pulled the lever on the side to turn it on (which was actually an arm from a shop window dummy), the metal grinding noise easily drowned out the squeaks. The whole machine rattled as if it was about to fall to pieces.'

Invent your own machine.

What job does it do?

Label the different parts of the machine.

Give your machine a name.

Tina Trotts

"There is something I need to say to you, Zoe," said Tina suddenly, her eyes filling with tears. "Something I've never said to anyone. Ever. Ever ever ever. And if you repeat it, I'll kill you."

Goodness, thought Zoe. What on earth could it be? Is it some terrible secret? Does Tina have a second head that she keeps hidden under her jumpers? Or is she really a boy called Bob?

But no, reader. It was none of these things.

It was something much more shocking...

"Sorry," said Tina, eventually.

Pretend that you are the bully Tina Trotts. Write a letter to Zoe apologising for all the mean things you have done to her. Tell her why you behaved the way you did and suggest ways to make it up to her.

Dear Zoe,

From Tina Trotts
