

What are they saying?

In the story Martin Waddell writes:

“The poor duck was sleepy and weepy and tired.”

What do you think the hens are saying to the duck to make him feel better?

