CHAPTER ONE

Theo's dream

Theo was a snail. He lived in a garden with his brother, Chet. Every day, Chet and Theo worked with the garden snails but Theo was never happy.

'What's the matter?' asked Chet.

'I want to do something different,' said Theo.

Every night, Theo watched car races on TV. Guy Gagné was his favourite racing driver.

'My dream is to win races,' said Guy. 'You can have your dream too!'

Theo had a dream. He wanted to race.

One night, Theo went to the city. He wanted to see some cars. He jumped on a car and it started to race. The car drove very fast and Theo fell into the turbo engine. When Theo came out of the engine, he was different.

'I'm a turbo snail now!' he said.
