

Challenge 6: Read a comforting classic

- What is your favourite classic book? It could be one from our list, or a book you've read lots of times. Well, imagine if YOU had written that book – how would you write it? Would you change the ending? Plan out how you would write the ending.
- There are lots of talking animals in classic books – from The Gruffalo and The Tiger Who Came to Tea, to the insects James meets in a giant peach and the daemons in Lyra Belacqua's world of the His Dark Materials series. Have a go at making your own talking animal – does it wear clothes, or eat like a human? Where does it go and who does it meet?
- Choose one of your favourite classic books and have a go at drawing a map of one of the places from it.
